And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

A program calling for a "sweeping renovation" of state governments has been recommended by the Research and policy committee of the Committee for Economic Development (CED).

This organization is a nonprofit research and educational organization of 200 business executives and educators who study major national and international economic problems with the purpose of promoting high employment with stable economic growth.

The report entitled, "Modernizing State Government" makes the following recommendations both to improve the quality of state operations, as such, and to encourage action by the states in correcting weaknesses in their systems of local government:

1. "State constitutional revision should have highest priority in restructuring state governments to meet modern needs." Changes in state constitutions, the report suggests, should stress "repealing limitations that prevent constructive legislative and executive action." They should also put emphasis "on clarifying the roles and relationships of the three branches of government, on permitting thorough modernization of local government in both rural and urban areas," and on eliminating from constitutions "matters more appropriate for legislative and executive action."

2. . . no state legislature should have more than 100 members in total; smaller states would be better served by still fewer members. In all states, sessions should be annual, without time limitations for adjournment. Committees should be few in number, organized along broad functional lines, and supplied with strong staff support. Public hearings should be held on all major legislation. Legislators should serve four-year terms and receive salaries commensurate with their responsibilities and equal to at least half that of the governor. "In no case should they be less than $15,000, the report states.

3. Governors should become chief executives in fact as well as name," the statement says. "Except for a jointly-elected lieutenant-governor, the governor should be the state's only elected executive official. He should have a four-year term and freedom to seek re-election without restriction as to number of terms." The report goes on to say that the governor should have authority and responsibility for developing long-range plans, for program supervision, and for budget and personnel management, with adequate staff and resources suited to these functions. "The governor's salary should be at least that of a member of Congress (now $30,000 annually); chief executives of larger states should receive substantially more," the CED statement says.

4. . . All judicial functions now performed by local courts should be brought into a single statewide system. Judges should be appointed, rather than elected, and have long tenure. "Each legislature should have authority to create new courts and abolish existing ones as the need arises, and to provide for the unified administration of the entire system. . ."

"Two-party competition should be deliberately fostered in every state. Party organization and nominating procedures should receive intensive scrutiny to assure their responsiveness and representative character, and to encourage active citizen participation." In addition, the report suggests that consideration be given to setting state and local election dates in years when there are no federal — or at least no Presidential — contests.

6. "Interstate cooperation in solving mutual problems should be exploited actively through interstate compacts," the study recommends. "Positive encouragement should be given to counties and other local units seeking collaboration with their counterparts both within the state and beyond its boundaries." Furthermore, the report urges wider adoption of uniform state laws and active experimentation with new formulas for federal-multistate cooperation. All these measures can be taken without constitutional revision, the report notes.

COOLEST PLACE IN TOWN — Patrons of the Hamlin Foundation Swimming Pool found it cool and refreshing Wednesday afternoon. One thermometer down town showed the temperature to

New School Valuations To Be Mailed This Month

A re-evaluation study being conducted by McMorries and Company, Inc., to determine appraisal values of property located within the Hamlin Independent School District that was not previously appraised has been completed. Some paper work is to be completed and the date of the re-evaluation hearing has to be set before the notices can be mailed to property owners.

All of this work is expected to be finished and the cards mailed toward the end of the month, according to Haskell Carter, tax assessor-collector.

Two years ago the McMorries firm conducted a re-evaluation survey in Jones County. These figures will be used for Jones County property. Property in Stonecreek and Fisher Counties within the boundary of the Hamlin school district have been visited and the same method of appraisal has been used.

The State, as well as the oil companies, have made suggestions indicating that local school district's properties be equalized, according to Supt. C. F. Cook.

He said that Hamlin is not the only school district employing professional tax evaluators to equalize their property.

Schools that have had their districts re-evaluated or are in the process of having it done now are Stamford, Balinger, Winters, Breckenridge, Anson, Baird, Slaton and Floydada, he said.

The Hamlin School Board recognizes that the cost of operating a school has advanced this year. They were made aware of the following figures at the last board meeting: assessment for paving, $13,279.00; teachers' raise, $15,748.00; and increase in bond and interest payments, $40,017.00. These amounts total $69,044.00. In addition to this insurance, janitorial services, janitorial supplies and teaching supplies have all advanced in price.

The Board has found it necessary to set the taxable values at 35% of the appraised value in order to appropriate monies to operate the schools. Tax rates will be set later to balance the necessary money to balance the budget for the 1967-68 school year. This cannot be done until the total values are ascertained.

City Hikes Values To Meet Budget

Increased costs of operation of the city government has resulted in a request for a 10% increase in assessed valuation of all properties, both real and personal, within the taxing limits of the City of Hamlin.

The equalization board for the City of Hamlin granted the request of the City Council. The present tax rate of $1.50 per $100.00 assessed valuation will remain in force and effect. Last year's taxes receivable total was $68,406.50. With the 10% increase the tax-receivable figure for the tax year 1967 will be $75,247.15. This goes into the operation of the General Fund and into the sinking funds for bonds and interest.

The Board of Equalization will meet Aug. 7 and 8 at 7:30 to 8:30 p. m.

Man's triumph over a Menace to Life...

Sharks have always been man's enemies in the sea. They are a danger to the shipwrecked, and occasionally threaten the lives of swimmers along our coastal waters. Sharks are only one of the many dangers that man faces every day.
The world, today, is in a turmoil and we must be alert and on guard for the enemies' moves. Now is the time to trust in the Lord and to seek His help.

"Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul. O my God, I trust in thee; let me not be ashamed, let not mine enemies triumph over me."

Psalm 25, 1-2

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN. — Air pollution is the prime topic of conservation in the Capitol at the moment.

After taking a look at the air pollution law just put on the books this year, members of the new Texas Air Control Board say the Texas law permits 80 times as much air pollution as do similar laws in some of the other states.

Elbert Hooper of Austin, the Board's attorney, told the directors that an exemption from control supposed to apply only to cotton gins (limiting air emissions to a maximum of eight per cent of the process weight of any agricultural product) may exempt many industries.

He named the following as possibilities: lumber mills, rice mills, grain elevators, paper mills, cotton oil mills, produce plants, food processing plants, citrus processing plants, cotton seed delinting plants, flour mills, soybean oil mills, corn syrup plants, slaughter houses, wool scouring plants, nut processing plants and, possibly, rendering plants.

"We might as well fold up and go home," said Board Member Henry LeBlanc of Port Arthur. "Maybe it would be easier for you to tell us what's left that we can control," he told Hooper.

Some members observed that cotton gins would have to produce 50,000 to 60,000 micrograms of particulate matter to get to eight per cent concentration — and gins at best are not likely to exceed 40,000 to 50,000 micrograms.

Rep. Don Cavness of Austin and Sen. Criss Cole of Houston, co-authors of the 1967 Clean Air Act, say that the legislative intent was to exclude only cotton gins from State Control. However, it may be necessary to amend the Clean Air Act in the 1968 special session to make this fact clear to industries which might want to be exempt.

AMENDMENTS — DRAWN
On November 11, Texans will vote on six proposed constitutional amendments placed on the ballot in this order:

No. 1 — Allowing counties to put all tax money in a single general fund.

No. 2 — Permitting cities and other governmental units within hospital districts to

There've been some changes made

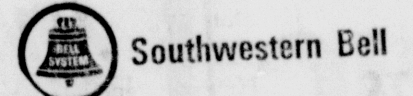

There was a time when our telephone operators wore "floor duster" dresses and sat on high wooden stools. Not so today.

New equipment and new work techniques have revolutionized the familiar world of "Number, please." And the operating room of the future incorporates the most dramatic and far-reaching changes ever. In these new rooms, there are no plugs, cords or jacks. Instead of being lined up along a multi-position switchboard, operators sit at desk-like consoles widely spaced through the room. Everything is bright and modern. Already operational in a few Southwestern Bell cities, these newest operating rooms represent more than a change in looks. The new consoles make many new services possible. Customers can dial person-to-person, credit card and collect Long Distance calls. Service is faster and more efficient.

More and more of these new consoles will be installed as time goes by. But despite the changes in equipment and techniques, one thing will remain the same. Our operators will still be dedicated to giving the best possible service to our customers. The "voice with a smile" is as important and meaningful as ever.

Some things just don't need changing.

RESOLUTION

Be it resolved by the City Council of the City of Hamlin, Jones County Texas that due to the urgency of providing funds for the continued operation of the City of Hamlin it has been necessary to request a 10% increase of all assessed valuation of property, both real and personal within the taxing limits of the City of Hamlin, Texas.

In planning the budget for the 1967-1968 fiscal year, the City Council finds that an increase in tax revenue is necessary to provide funds for the current operating expense and to provide sufficient monies for the tax bond and sinking funds.

A 10% increase in assessed valuation at the present rate of $1.50 per $100.00 assessed valuation will provide the necessary funds for the 1967-1968 budget.

The council has requested the City Equalization Board to set said increase to be effective with the 1967 tax year.

Notice is hereby given to all tax payers within the corporate limits of the City of Hamlin, Jones County, Texas, of said increase.

Sylvester News...

By Mrs. R. M. Babb
Did you miss me last week, hope so, but here I am this lovely Monday morning every thing seems to be going al- right so I won't complain.
Did you have a nice Fourth? I did by staying home and enjoying a quiet day, our town had several visitors so I will try to tell you about some of them: Woodford and Lorena Pursley from Big Spring spent several days visiting relatives and friends.
Visiting in the F. E. Meeks home for several days is their daughter and family from Oklahoma.
Mrs. Bernice (Leverett) Giesler of Electra spent an hour or so with her aunt, Mrs. John Edwards on Sunday as she was returning to Electra from California where she has lived for the past 27 years.
Visiting in the Fred Turner home was their daughter Janie and family of Brown- field.
Mr. and Mrs. Morris Roc- quemore of Irving spent several days with her Mother, Mrs. Perkins and his father, Roy Rocquemore, I believe all en- joyed the granddaughter.
The front of the Baptist Church looks much better since they got the awning back on the front where the tor- nado had blown it away several months ago.

Cormick family in the loss of Mrs. McCormick, every one that knew her loved "Mom" McCormick, she was dear to me, she lived in Roby but was known by many people in Fisher Co.

Visiting over Sunday in the Buford Brown home was the Prather family of Sweetwater. The Bill Watson grand- daughters of Trent spent the weekend in the Watson home.

MOTOR FUEL TAXES CONTINUE TO GAIN
Citing U. S. Bureau of Pub- lic Roads figures, the Amer- ican Petroleum Institute says with collections running about $20.5 million a day, the cum- ulative total was expected to reach $104 billion by the end of 1966.

Fisher Co. Oil, Gas Big Business

More than $16.8 million a year of economic stimulation for Fisher County flows from its oil and gas wells each year, an annual study by Texas Mid- Continent Oil & Gas Associ- ation showed today.

"As one of the 206 producing counties in Texas, Fisher County's economy is sensitive to fluctuations in the oil in- dustry generally," commented W. A. Landreth, Fort Worth, Association president. "Long range, the demand for oil looks strong and current pro- duction rates continue to pro- vide Texas a major source of its income. On the other hand, Texas operators are beset by competition from other oil producing areas, government ceilings on natural gas prices, heavy tax payments, and a price for crude oil that is insufficient to encourage the amount of exploratory drilling that is needed to find future reserves."

Based on latest U. S. Bureau of Mines production figures, Fisher County in 1965 pro- duced 5.4 million barrels of crude oil, valued at $15.8 million and 8.0 billion cubic feet of natural gas valued at $1.0 million, and ranks 67th among Texas counties in pro- duction.

In addition, plants which process natural gas for liquids such as natural gasoline, bu- tane and propane in 1965 pro- duced more than 17.8 million gallons of liquids valued at $854,270.

A major distribution of in- come from sales of oil and gas went to county landowners in royalty payments totaling more than $2.1 million.

In 1966, a year that saw drilling in Texas fall to its lowest level since 1947, oil and gas operators drilled 54 wells in Fisher County. Of these 23 were wildcats seeking new fields.

The Association estimated that operators in the county spent more than $1.2 million in drilling last year, of which $464,589 was lost in dry holes. Sharing heavily in the county's production each year is the State Treasury, which received $801,038 in production taxes in 1965 paid by the pro- ducers and royalty owners. Crude oil production paid $728,847 and natural gas pro- duction, $72,191.

Texas Employment Com- mission figures for 1966 show that some 52 workers directly employed in oil and gas operations accounted for a payroll in excess of $357,900. Additional value is given oil and gas from the oper- ation of processing plants. The Oil and Gas Journal lists 4 natural gasoline plants in the county with a capacity of 17.3 million cubic feet per day.

Jaycee Miniature Golf open Monday through Satur- day 4 to 10 p.m. in City Park.

The average hospital stay for a Medicare patient in July-December '66 was 12-6 days.
